

What will your legacy be?

Consider putting the WVLT in your will and join a group of committed conservationists that want to ensure the land is here for future generations be a WVLT Guardian.

Do you live here because the Wallkill Valley region inspires you? Are you connected to the land through:

- family memories?
- the local farm where you buy food?
- a hiking trail?
- a bike-riding opportunity?
- an important, scenic view?
- a favorite natural spot?

Do you want to make a significant difference in conserving what makes this region so special—its land and rural heritage?

While planned gifts take many forms, they are the result of careful planning and an intention to make a lasting gift. These include bequests made in a will, naming the WVLT as a life insurance beneficiary, or using tax-wise giving options such as charitable gift annuities or remainder trusts.

Supporters like you who have made legacy/planned gifts have an extraordinary impact on our work. Join them and become a WVLT Guardian today.
